About the NG Group

The Pedigree

The NG Group of companies consists of NG Insurance Services Limited, Peter Adams (Insurance Brokers) Limited and Davis Marine Insurance Services Limited. As a group it has a pedigree stretching back to 1969.

Personal service is most important to us, which is why we prefer to deal face to face with as many of our clients as possible. Knowing our clients intimately helps us to provide the appropriate level of cover.

We will find the right contract for you, explain everything in plain language, complete all the necessary paperwork with you, issue policies and carry out mid-term adjustments, as well as dealing with claims. We can also offer a whole range of Risk Management advice as required.

Why Choose the NG Group of Companies?

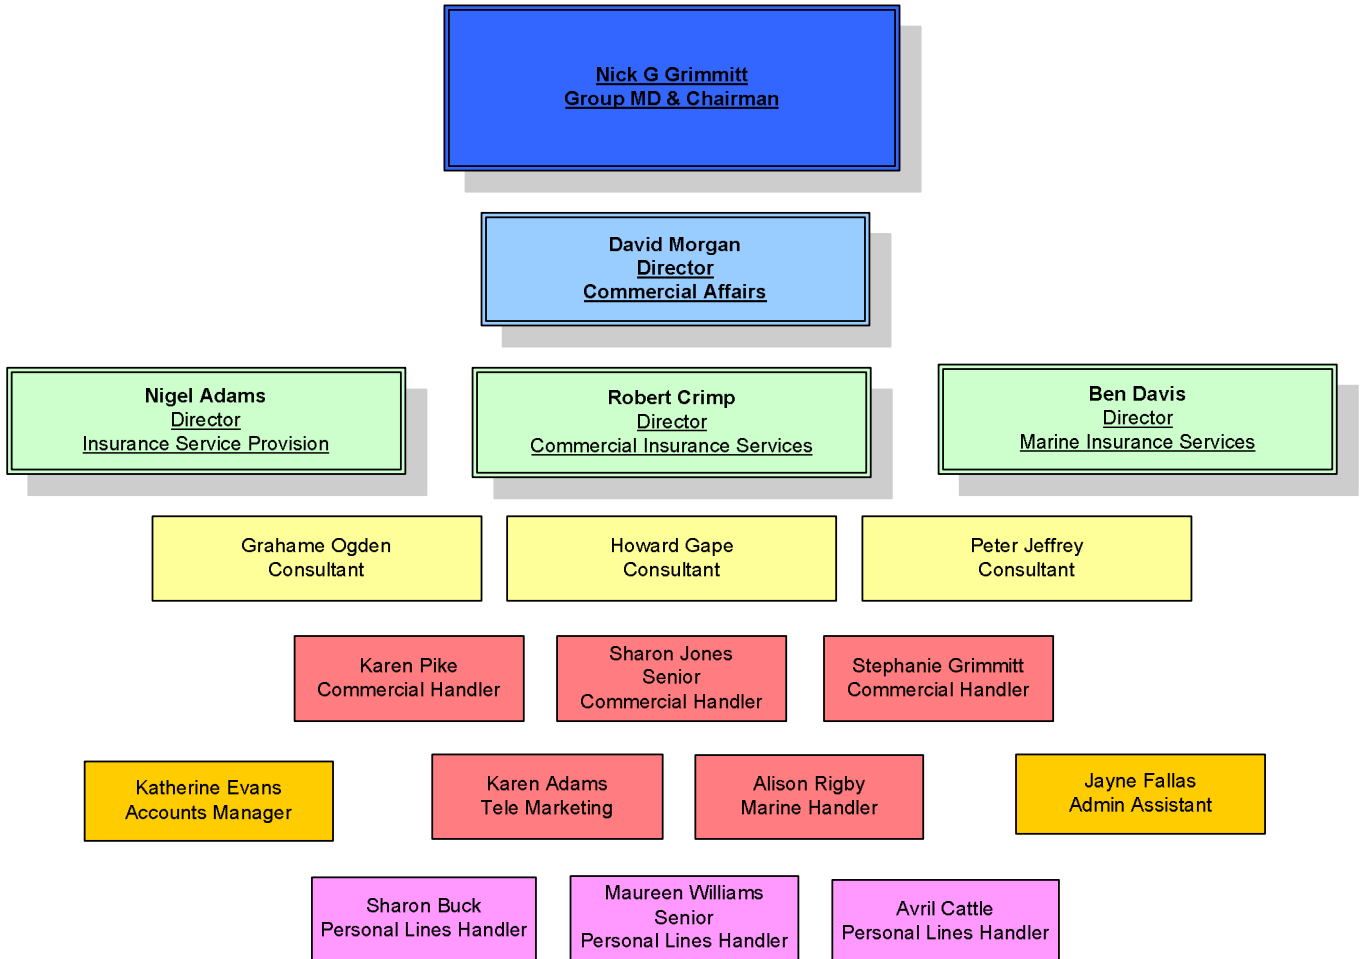

- Being independent means that we offer practical, unbiased advice to meet your needs.
- The principals have considerable experience and our resources enable us to deal with every kind of client from a large multinational company, through to individuals with personal requirements.

“It’s all about service, quality and value, working in partnership with you”.
